Indigestion, Dyspepsia And All Stomach Troubles PERMANENTS! CURED BY EUPEPSIA TABLETS.

Dyspepsia, commonly called indigestion, is concoded to be the most difficult and intractable as well as one of the most common diseases with which physicians are called on to deal. There are thousands of so-called remedies for this aliment, but the successful remedies, those upon which absolute dependence can be placed, are, unfortunately, extremely few. Such a remedy is EUPEPSIA TABLETS. Unlike most preparations of the kind, it is not advertised as a corresult, reither do the proprietors make any extravagant claims. Its superior efficacy is due to the fact that it is made of a combination of digestive stimulants which have never been used by the medical profession, because their powerful restorative properties were heretofore unknown. The rapidity with which chronic cases often to twenty years' standing have been cured by EUPEPSIA TABLETS is the best evidence of its great merit, and the Eupepsia Co. have no bestiancy in obering it on the distinct understanding that they will return the money if it fails to cure. EUPEPSIA TABLETS is no experiment, but the prescription of a specialist, builded on the knowledge gained from experience in treating indigestion in its severest forms

CUBA'8 SMILING WINTER SKIES ATTRACT AMERICANS

Throngs of Smart Tourists Are Now in Havana-Many Visitors to Tour Island Before Sailing for Home-Beauties of Matanzas-Travel in the Palm Land.

New York, Feb. 18 .- To the seekers of winter sunshine who do not object to a short sen voyage, who have leisure and, above all, a plentiful supply of money in ther purses, there is no more agreeable e to visit than Cuba, the Pearl of the Antilles, during the months when biting winds and snow and slush make the Northern States disagreeable.

It is easy of access. Smooth seas and unny skies can be counted on with reasonable certainty during the winter seasen, and even if old Neptune is a bit boisterous there is ample payment for the short discomfort of the voyage in the beauties of the most enchanting of the West Indies.

Until the American occupation Cuba to most Americans meant Havana a Provincial capital, with the customs and manners of Paris modified to suit the Spanish temperament and the climatic conditions of the tropics, while the filthy state of the city and the lack of sanitary precautions made it unsafe except for a limited

It is a beautiful harbor and the whole place is full of romance and interest for Americans, and, while their patriotic pride may be gratified by the fact that the nation kept its pleuges, there is a tinge of regret that Old telory does not continue to wave over such a beautiful spot.

Havana effers much, both to the tourist and to the idlers who wish to make a prolonged stay. The climate is delignful during the winter; days so warm that white ducks are comfortable and hights cool enough to make a blanket acceptable for bed covering form a perfect combination. For one who wishes to be energetic in sightsceing there are innumerable places of interest to visit, from Moro Castle at the entrance to the harbor, with all its historic and tragic associations, to the farmous Colon cemetery, a spot so beautiful as to relieve death of half its terrors.

Or one may go to the Pos Hermanos, the fish restaurant near the harbor, and select the particular fish which one desires to have prepared for breakfast, and see it taken from the great giass tank alive, utilizing the time while it is cooking to eat innumerable small oysters, which strange to say' grow on trees.

If you don't believe it, ask the waiter and he will bring you a branch with the bivalves thickly custered on it and convince you that the proper way to fish for eysters in Cuba is with an ax. They are brought from the bay of Mantanzas, where they develop on the branches of the trees which hang down in the water. Good restaurants are found in nearly all of the hotels, but the Dos Hermanos, the Carabancel and the Cafe de Paris are ad eclebrated for special dishes.

The close of the summer tour is marked by the termination of the Horse Show in New York; directly after that the exodustor Havana commences, and by December 15 the season is on, a season which never pauses until Lent, and then only for a breathing spell, to begin again afresh until the first days of May, when once more tronks are packed and an revoir is said to the old wails of the Moro and to the Maiceon. The leginning of the Season may virtually be said to take place on the first night of the opera.
